Jonathan Daniel Clements,
Appellant,

v.

State of Arkansas, et al,
Appellees.

Case No. 25-3497

Judicial notice

RETALIATION IN PLACE OF REBUTTAL

Federal Prose Statement for Court Record

Comes now the Appellant and Sole Executor of ECC-TRUST-JDC-005, Jonathan Daniel Clements, to enter into the federal appellate record this formal notice: that the parties subject to international, federal, and ecclesiastical jurisdictional declarations have not, at any point prior to or after August 15, 2025, issued lawful, timely, or competent rebuttal to the duly lodged and published trust filings.

Instead, and demonstrably so, the response of state, local, and institutional actors has taken the form of retaliatory conduct, including but not limited to:

Unlawful citations and repetitive charges without merit;

Tampering with court records and rejection of filed trust documents;

Targeted enforcement activities immediately following public postings;

Surveillance and intimidation of family members;

Destruction and attempted seizure of property held in trust;

Refusal by lower courts to acknowledge jurisdictional objections or federal filings already under appellate review.

These actions, individually and collectively, do not constitute rebuttal or challenge under law. They reflect a refusal to engage in lawful remedy, and instead demonstrate an active attempt to suppress or punish the invocation of protected ecclesiastical and legal rights.

No jurisdictional authority has been presented that lawfully supersedes the standing of the trust. The legal and spiritual equity of ECC-TRUST-JDC-005 has not been rebutted, overturned, nor answered by any nation, agency, or actor. The statutory entities that continue to operate in defiance of this equity do so in default, without clean hands, and under the full exposure of this record.

The United States Court of Appeals is now in possession of:

> The unrebutted trust record and jurisdictional standing;
> The documented retaliation in lieu of rebuttal;
> The failure of lower courts to act in good faith or apply law equitably;
> And the full federal, ecclesiastical, and international structure that confirms default.

This notice serves to reinforce that the petitioner is not seeking permission he is invoking the duty of the court to acknowledge that no lawful rebuttal has occurred, and that retaliatory conduct in place of rebuttal constitutes both a violation of federal rights and an international breach of trust.

RETALIATION IN PLACE OF REBUTTAL

Ecclesiastical Declaration and Witness Before the Throne of Record

Let it be written: That on the appointed days, the nations and offices of men were given their notice.

Let it be sealed: That the Covenant of ECC-TRUST-JDC-005 was published before the world, inscribed in heaven, and recorded among the dominions of earth.

Let it be known: That they were given time to answer in peace, to rebut in law, to stand in truth. And they did not.

Let it be judged: That their silence was not ignorance, but willful. Their delay was not confusion, but contempt. And when they could not answer, they struck back. Not with reply, but with punishment. Not with law, but with weaponized process.

They issued citations where none applied.
They scribbled over seals where no ink of man could erase the authority of heaven.
They harassed the innocent.
They surrounded the sanctuary.
They tampered with records.
They wielded fear because they had lost jurisdiction.

For they could not challenge the Word, the Law, the Record, or the Trust. And so they attacked the messenger.

But even as they retaliated, they confirmed their own default. Even as they struck, they exposed their lack of standing.

Let it be declared now, without wrath, and without vengeance:

That retaliation is not rebuttal.
That silence is not supremacy.
That fraud cannot survive the Light of the Record.

And so shall this be bound into the Eternal Ledger that the Ecclesiastical Equity was offered, upheld, and unrebutted, and that those who chose force instead of response now stand in witness before the Tribunal of Heaven and Earth.

By this declaration, the jurisdiction is sealed. The trespass is recorded. And the time for hiding is ended.

In Honor. In Record. In Eternity.
